Spring 2010

Spring:

Spring has sprung! Things are greening up very nicely. The change from a black and white landscape of winter has sprung to life with color, fragrances, and new animal life. I for one am relieved to see Mother Nature doing her thing!

With spring came the switch to Daylight Savings Time. Sigh, what a total waste! Does this really mean that the Sun rises an hour earlier and sets an hour later just because of a so-called time change? Nope! The reality is the shift in the Earth's axis causes the length of the daylight hours and not what time people say it is.

Global Warming:

No matter what theory you subscribe to as to why global warming is happening, the point is that it is happening. You don't have to be a rocket scientist to see the results, polar icecaps melting being just one example. I would also have to comment that I believe that it has passed the point of no return and is accelerating. As with previous periods of global warming, the next event will be a new Ice Age. The big question is how quickly it will develop.

As one who is into SCI-FI movies and books, I watched a movie called "Day After Tomorrow", a number of times now. A very nicely done movie! While the scenario may be SCI-FI, it is entirely possible. Could this be the 2012 event that has been foretold? Or even the possibility of a ELE (Extinction Level Event)?

Rumors:

Is it true Obama was not born in the US?

Is it true that a certain Colonel Skees is still trying to figure out who flashed a message on computer screens?

Is it true that there are really nuclear missiles hidden in a Nike silo in Bratenahl?

Is it true that Ted Lentz is going to retire or going on another overseas assignment?

Will we ever find out which is better, Twilight or the Vampire Diaries?

Sigh, burring questions! Only the Magic Man knows for sure!
